Jane Seabrook does a wonderful job of providing humorous bits of wisdom, along with great animal illustrations. The pictures alone are worth the book, but the quotes are the icing on the cake. A couple of my favorites: There's a drawing of a grizzly bear from behind with the caption, "Your order for lessons in patience has been received - please allow four to six months for delivery." There's a picture of two Atlantic puffins talking and one is saying to the other, "And please keep your mind open until I can get a little more of my argument into it." The book is a very quick, fun read and makes a great gift book!

With a picture and just a few words the author manages to convey some of our deepest thoughts and feelings. Not a children's book despite charming covers but children would probably enjoy and "get it" too.

Oh my, don't miss out on ANY of Jane's Furry Logic books. I sent one to a 16 yr. old friend who had a concussion and has been out of regular school for 6 mos. She wrote me "thank you" and said she LOVES this book! I've also given the one on Parenting and it's hilarious. These make the absolute GREATEST GIFT!

These books by Jane Seabrook are simply marvelous. I have enjoyed them so much that I've gone back and ordered more to have on hand to give to friends on special occasions. The first book of hers that I'd gotten was Furry Logic: Little Challenges. Even more fantastic. Really "spoke to me".

I gave a few of this books to my daughter just so that she can relax and see some of the humor some of these logic comes to play within our lifes. I enjoy each page/picture as it brings a different perspective to some situations.

I've sent several out as birthday cards and get well cards and they never fail to get a smile. The illustrations are perfect, and while the captions are not original they are just right for the pictures they accompany.

This book is charming & funny on every level. Jane Seabrook is an amazing artist who manages to depict the animals accurately while putting great expression on their faces to go with her witty captions. As an added bonus, she identifies each animal in the back of the book. I have several of these little books & love looking at them over & over. She did one using cats & I wish she'd do one for dogs! I now own the entire collection and I even bought some as Christmas gifts. As we read them, I tell my husband this is you or this sounds like me. For example, 2 tree frogs sitting together [beautiful art work]"Of course we are friends---you know I would share my last piece of trouble with you."Or a Rockhopper penquin..."Life can be very deep, but I try to stay at the shallow end.Jane Seabrook does all the art work and it is amazing
